

Edward Burruel

Eddie participated in all fields of sports, including wrestling and basketball, and receiving his varsity letters in baseball and football.

He married Louise Buschkowsky, class of '68, in June of 1969, setting up residence in Quartz Hill. They had two children, his son Joseph and his daughter Tonya. Joe would marry and have a son and a daughter making them grandparents.

Eddie became a carpenter working for Hazard and Kasler Construction Companies with the focus on bridge work constructing falsework (temporary structures used to support spanning or arched structures) for many of the bridges throughout the California Highway system.

Divorced and relocating to San Diego he met Peggy Leslie and her two daughters. They became a family a year later in 1987.

Eddie's interests besides sports were hunting and fishing. He returned often to the valley not only to visit his parents but to hunt deer in the local mountains of Antelope Valley.

Eddie passed away in his home in San Diego from a heart attack, April 3rd, 2008.

